Complete transparency in every aspect allows each of our reseller to fulfill their services without the worry of being discovered as our reseller. All of this is designed so you can concentrate on selling and making money while we do all of the hard technical work behind the scenes. As a Hosting reseller, you are free to resell each account under your own brand name and charge your customers whatever you want. This allows you to have the look and feel of your own hosting company. We use anonymous name servers. On request we can provide your domain reseller account, own name servers without any extra cost.

By configuring our software into your website, it takes the word automation to a new level. Automated customer signup, billing and domain name registration are now possible. All new signups and domain registration are automated in real time, your customers will receive their logins within seconds of making payments. In short, just sit back and see the money roll in to your account.

You will be able to create your own web hosting plans. Additionally you can also sell domain names along with the hosting plans or separately. The registration process will be in real time! We sell the domains for as low as $6.90/Year for generic domain TLDs such as .com .net .org .us, .info, etc. .in for $12.95/Year & .co.in etc. for $7.05/Year to our resellers, you can set your own prices and sell to your customers. As a hosting reseller you can create as many hosting plan variations as you like.

You will have the flexibility to monitor each client's disk and bandwidth usage.

Billing for Resellers is a completely independent system. Also, it's resellers who decide rates on their hosting plans and how many units (space, bandwidth, etc.) will be included in their plans, create various payment intervals and other billing related issues all making your hosting experience a real hassle free one with us. Sell and sit relaxed... we will look after your hardware and our software will help you look after billing issues.

You will be responsible for providing general support to your customers as well as your own billing. We will do all hardware and software system administration necessary, as well as be your second line technical support engineers if you have a problem and can't answer it. We will never contact or deal with your customers for any reason.
